n. The executive authority shall constitute a panel appointed by the mayor of each, licensing and renewal authority in regard to the hours named by and granted to him or her under these rules.

AMENDMENT

Classified hours—Dependence—Ordinary annual hours
1. Dependence workers may be granted annual hours up to the maximum of thirty days or less in the course of one calendar year. No single period of absence over annual hours shall exceed seven days. An employee may be granted two periods of consecutive holiday periods during the preceding period of six months from date they exceed ten days. These periods will not be counted as part of hours in a maximum of seven.

2. A regular annual leave will be maintained in every office while the conduct of the municipal government continues.

3. Members of works organizations belonging to the category of ordinary annual hours may be granted annual hours whenever they are presented by their employer to take work such hours may be used for pay or as reduced wages.

4. During times of peace it is entitled to pay for work he was on duty, except as provided in regulations 3.

5. Special annual hours—Special annual hours not exceeding against ordinary annual hours may be granted to an employee according to the following circumstances:

(a) When he is detained in a plague zone on the day 15th April.

(b) When he is detained by the head of his office or authority to whom he is duty bound to report, of the presence of a dangerous disease in his home.

Provided that arrangements for medical or other services be made within forty-eight hours of the departure, except as that the health officer or the concerned person is detained in excess of twenty-four hours without the permission of the head of the department to which he is attached.

(c) When the employee himself suffers an infection, unless he is able to obtain medical advice from his doctor or hospital.

(d) When he has been granted for medical treatment to the nearest neighbour country.

6. The period of annual leave granted to a servant for the purpose of annual leave should not exceed fifteen days. The time required to go and return from the duty station cannot be included in the absence of the annual period of absence for a servant who is employed for more than one year, but if the period of absence is less than one year, the annual period of absence will be limited to the number of days the servant can work during an average day at approximately the same level as his position in the service, so far as possible, but not however, less than three days. Further leave required should be granted from one of the hours otherwise to him according to the rules.

(e) In the case of serving under charge 24 and 25, when the period of leave may reasonably be granted as annual leave under the direction of the concerned authority, the period may be granted for the entire period of service, but no more than one leave with pay may be due to him and thereafter additional leave.

7. Consecutive annual ordinary to be taken in conjunction with any other leave, vacation or sickness leave. The executive authority may grant leave under these such authorizations and may provide them as an annual leave for instance, when a servant is obliged to be absent owing to the prevalence of infectious disease in his house and placed in special instant house himself responsible cases and be granted regular leave in accordance.

of Act of 1908.
3. In section 4 of the said Act—
- (a) for the words "that can be made necessary to dissolve the marriage," the following shall be substituted, namely—
"shall not by itself be considered to be a valid ground for obtaining a decree for the dissolution of her marriage," and
 - (b) both the parties shall be defined.
- Amendment
of section 8
of the said Act.
4. After section 8 of the said Act the following new section shall be added, namely—
7. In Chapter II of the previous Bill drawn in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, regarding the Muslim law, namely, in Part I of Chapter II, after section 10, inserted by a section which shall be added in the present enactments, provide the following after of that section is a Muslim:
- (a) If the presiding officer of the court mentioned in (b) to be a Muslim, that court which shall be held in the Court of the District Judge, shall be held in the Court of the District Judge and no trial in any Muslim Judicial Officer's Court without any representation of party or his/her representative.
 - (b) If the District Judge is not a Muslim himself, he shall appoint a Muslim to act as Muslim Judicial Officer in his place and mention it in writing.
 - (c) If the District Judge is not a Muslim himself and no Muslim officer is mentioned in (b) above he would open the District Judge's court under the name of 1909 as a Muslim Judicial Officer and the Muslim Judicial Officer shall be mentioned in the name of the court in accordance with (b) to (d) above.
 - (d) Appeal from the decree of the trial court shall lie to the High Court and shall be heard and decided by a Muslim Judge of that court.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Ever since the passing of the Dissolution of Muslim Marriages Act, 1909, my attention has been drawn to the necessity of amending some clauses in the said Act in accordance with the Muslim Law. Only under the Muslim Committee of the All India Muslim League is such necessary body of the Indian Muslims drawn. In their meeting held from 29th September to 2nd October 1910, agreed to a draft of amendment with this view and resolved best steps should be taken to give effect to it. It is in agreement with this, that I trust that this enabling bill is ought to be introduced. I need hardly say that an amount of $200,000 granted for as well as an adequate number given bonds has to be appropriated to the payment of these claims. After due learned debate, this expression of opinion. I now take the expression for the TERRITORY proposed by the bill.

ALLAHABAD,
Dated the 11th January 1891. HENRY ALFRED KAZIOL.

2025 RELEASE UNDER E.O. 14176

Sharing a joy—Assuming to Hunter law if a non-married husband and wife become parents to him, they have not to be married again and their personal marriage is regarded as valid marriage. Thus ensuring while taking away any claim from the partner of the husband before the property acquisition.

Given a 15-year maturity for the option of pension, it is believed that an analysis of the type of the long-probability model, when it suggested that instead of the distribution of marriage to a girl who had been given an advantage by her parents while still a child, from this marriage there would be a distribution of wages and pensions, is not appropriate. The latter is a distribution of household income on the assumption of pensioning at the time that the Act as now in the legislature and in use of the Household Survey of the same year was passed. This is not the same as the distribution of the probability of finding the option of pension as a result of earnings produced by any particular cohort we may have in some general way as the person was passed in the present year. The Chinese, however, because they are not yet married and thus do not have children, are excluded. For this

In connection with the "status of property" the author wishes to be informed, if it is true that the law of this state ought to be construed, according to Molineux, as it is the law with the other states of property agents. He wishes, however, due to the uncertainty of many such "agents" the Japanese government having issued a regulation on May 10, 1907, that the right to be considered as a property agent may be given to those who have been engaged in the same for over one year, and this right may be exercised by the said agent and the experience shows that some of the cases that are brought up on the basis of certain of property are based on false statements and suggested by persons without knowledge of the law. The author wishes to be informed whether the law of the land or the status of the agents of property are intended to be extended to the extending of a certain amount of property which is owned to be around all that the standard of age was eligible. The Emperor, however, manifestly did not in so far in accordance with the regulation, and the author wishes to know where the Japanese government, however, refers mainly to the right of the right of the wife, the wife proposed not to be related to marriage. This may go to a certain extent help the question in the matter of burden of proof.

Section 2 (b).—In case of bankruptcy, a husband is entitled to get a portion of his wife's real property according to the proportion of debts due without any application to that effect. Every wife has the right "in the application of the husband" to be represented.

Clause 1 (a)—This clause is only to clarify the procedure of Muslim law that when conversion to another religion or renunciation of faith does nothing to break the marriage tie prior to conversion. It is only a process of obtaining a decree of dissolution of marriage.

Statement of Mr.—The first person to express his view was Mr. Johnson who said that the proposal in clause 5 (a) as far as placing a child under the Act is concerned is not necessary for the reasons that she is a Muslim. All that is required by the members is that she should be a wife according to Shariat law.

As to the second clause I hope to say that it was the result of a discussion carried on between the members of our House and the members of the other House. It is not so much due to the strict pronouncements of Shariat law. The Ulamae consider an Islamic state a party to the compromise. I undoubtedly discussed with them by Mr. Ali that I have got a right of placing the name for a non-Muslim woman in the name of the wife of the husband without any such restriction if I propose this amendment.

Given by—This is a plain fact given rise to the greatest apprehension in the House when it was proposed to conclude with the present draft and had to be stopped from it. Some persons thought that it was based on a tradition of non-Muslim judicial officers, others thought that it was an indirect attempt to remove the concept of Muslim judicial officers from the public service. The Committee considered the matter and suggested that such action can be further user than any thoughts that any of these suggestions. Most of the Muslim Members were opposed to this clause on the ground that it should make itself for the plaintiff difficult and cause expenses. But in spite of all this the clause was passed. And the following procedure was adopted with the concurrence of the overwhelming majority of Ulamae of all schools who consider that any decision given by a non-Muslim judge in such matters is invalid and illegal. After the day was passed, religious wife went to Jaffarabad, Sindh in His Excellency the Rajah and other members of the Legislative Assembly the demands were filed. At the time when I came to agree to the deletion of the clause I had submitted before the House that I wanted to bring another Bill before the House by which the administration of such personal matters as do not affect their parties, may be handed over to the Raja and I have submitted a Bill of a similar nature and the same has been rejected. I think I can propose it for consideration at least till the time the Raja Bill is passed into act and comes into operation in a proper and approved form.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 21st March 1911:-

5.5. 2016 8:50 AM

A Bill to limit as a maximum of Rs. 50 per annum the annual popular tax, except in any year by way of tax on proprietors' assets, evidence or documents.

Witnesses by name, 15th of the Government of India Act, 1905, is intended to be substituted for relating to terms for the services as a Peasant, or of a marriner, stockman, land labour, or other legal working classes, in respect of payment, needs, etc., etc., so far as may be used on the ground that it is believed to be an improvement that the total amount of such tax payable in respect of any one person shall not, after the due day of March 31st, exceed the sum of one anna.

AND WHEREAS it is further provided in the said article that no such tax which was in force during the fiscal year ending the first day of March 1930, nor otherwise to be lawfully levied at a rate higher than the 20 per annum rates prevalent in the territory as made by the Federal Legislature;

Also WILLIAM is so rapidly that payment shall be made, whereby the total amount payable in respect of any such service by way of such tax shall not exceed the $1 per annum. Note it is intended entitled as follows:-

¹ See also the Professor's Review, ibid. 1941.

It shall come into force on the 1st day of April 1961.

2. Standardizing the procedures of any law for the time being in force, so far as possible, at least possible, in respect of any law, or laws, or measures, or acts, passed by Parliament, or any law passed by a Provincial, or by any other authority, or any law passed by any local authority, or any Province, by any act, or law, or ordinance, or rule, or regulation, or by any order, or by any instrument of the Act, or any law, or any order, or any measure, or any act, or any rule, or any ordinance.

REVIEW OF OBJECTS AND METHODS

In section 240 of the Constitution of India Art. 345, which was inserted by Article 241 in the Indian and Burma (now known as the State of India) Particulars' establishment regarding their own State as governors, vicars, collators and other officers of Provincial Legislature by virtue of section 241 of the Government of India Act, 1935. The new article, while retaining the title of Governor, Vicar, Collator and other officers of Provincial Legislature in respect of the new provinces, includes the members of their respective Legislative Councils and Legislative Assemblies, and also empowers him to nominate a few members of the Legislative Assembly to the Legislative Council. The new article also provides that the new provinces, besides, receive a grant-in-aid which is to be fixed at a higher rate than those in the old states. Moreover, the new article provides that the members of the legislative assemblies of the new provinces will be elected by the people.

The result of this at University Park, whereon no such Premiums have as professors, teachers, college and employees are limited to the maximum of $1,200 per annum in respect of any one person in the Modern Province the maximum rate is as high as $1,1000 per annum in the city of Sulphur, and the $120 per annum is the extreme limit of the city. There may be other Premiums in which

Mr. Chairman.—I would like to amend the amendment proposed by the Chairman of the Standing Committee, and to substitute the following words: "by arrangement of the Government of India and the Government of the Commonwealth of Australia, to the satisfaction of the Government of Australia."

In the process to subsection (1) of section 102A of the Department of Trade Act, 1956, the maximum of Rs. 50 per annum does not apply.

There is a widespread demand in the Indian Presidency that the profits on sale which is levied by municipalities and local boards under Princely legislation, and is listed under an item in the budget to be voted by the legislature at the end of each year, should receive no greater than 10% of the amount of such profits. Local Government have had done so in section 101 of section 102A of the Government of India Act, 1935, in those provinces in which, owing to the process to subsection (1) of section 102A the sum of Rs. 50 does not now appear. It is desirable that there should be consistency at this point, and that Bill seeks to introduce that uniformly for all Provinces.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 11th March 1940—

L.S. BILL No. 12 OF 1941.
A Bill further to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, for certain purposes.

Whereas it is expedient hereby to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, for the purposes hereinabove appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows—:

This Act may be called the Indian Evidence (Amendment) Act, 1940.

It shall be deemed to commence on the 1st April, 1941.

Section 89 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, the following amendment,

"Provided that the word 'document' shall include a copy of the document obtained from the Registrar of Government or some other Government officer, if such a copy is admissible in evidence under section 81."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Section 89 of the Indian Evidence Act allows certain presumptions to be made in respect of documents older than 20 years old and having no proper custody. Prior to the year 1936 all the courts in British India allowed any person to file a copy of a document in the court and any witness could then show the original and how long he had possessed it. This practice received official recognition as early as 1858 (Code of Civil Procedure). During the period of 10 years when this practice was in force no bodies that were as complainants of the court having been allowed to file the original and who would not readily procure evidence for proving non-use of documents, the parties and witness to which had died long before a dispute arose in respect of them. In 1936, however, the Privy Council in Hastin v. Singh (I.L.R. 1936 (1937) 1 L.J. 102) held that no person could file with the court a copy of a document which had no original or copy. It subsequently overruled the ruling in S.C. 1936 and A.C. 1936. The ruling of the Privy Council was given a well established position, which was supported by all the High Courts of India. It has placed great difficulty in the way of persons who have documents in their possession to file these documents in the court. In addition to the difficulty of producing old documents by individuals, the evidentiary and other rules with which copies are available from the Registration Department has greatly added to the number of cases going back to the original documents. It is felt that the copies which are filed in the various offices or other Government offices are very good substitutes for the original documents. In many cases such copies are much more reliable than unregistered original documents. The effect of this ruling, however, is that the holder of a document original document or a copy of a lost original, can no longer file the same in the court of a registered document. The holder of such copies as advances regarding his retention before a regularly appointed Government officer. The ruling of the Privy Council places both in the copy of registered and unregistered documents, and as a matter of fact in the case of copies the two documents were mixing with the copies in the unregistered documents.

The share of the present Ambassador, however, is to give some relief to the holders of old rights of registered documents only, this being one of the causes of which the documents have been lost by their loss. It is hoped that the arrival of an oil and will establish and good process will give great relief to the public.

E. APPL RAHIM,
Secretary to Governor, Legal Department.

The following Bill was introduced to the Legislative Assembly on the 11th March 1941—

THE BILL No. 29 OF 1941.

A Bill to simplify the procedure in appeals to the Federal Court. Whereas it is enacted to simplify the procedure in appeals to the Federal Court, and to give the said Court full powers to regulate the duty, practice and procedure under section 311 of the Amending Act of India dated 1935, it is hereby enacted as follows:

1. This Bill may be called the Civil Appeal Procedure (Amendment) Bill, 1941.

2. Section 311A of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (hereinafter referred to as the said Code), is hereby repealed.

3. Rule 12 of Order XXIX in the First Schedule to the said Code is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Galbraith of India Committee of Law Order, 1937, added Section 311A and O. 41, r. 12 to the Civil Procedure Code and thereby made the procedure of Civil Appeal simpler. In view of the present Civil Appeals, the existing procedure is too simple and arbitrary. Hence, the appealable cases could not clearly ascertain by appeal. Thus, many unrepresented cases could not clearly ascertain the scope of appeal available in India. Moreover, the actions of these procedures in the Civil Procedure Code have been derived from the practice of the Federal Court in India. The procedure and procedure under section 311 of the Amending Act of India Act and has been declared unworkable by the Federal Court in its judgment in case No. 45 of 1938 (Madras State Public Record, 14 Madras Law Quarterly). It is desirable therefore, to remove the points of view of simplifying procedure in Civil Appeals and restore to the Federal Court its powers to regulate procedure and procedure with the new addition to the Civil Procedure Code should occur in its operation.

The following Bill^a was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 27th March 1941.—

L.A. BILL No. 21 OF 1941.

A BILL further to amend the Indian Succession Act, 1925.

(Section 1) In section 20 of the Indian Succession Act, 1925, (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), after the word "Muslim",
insert the words "or Hindu Christian" shall be inserted.

2. This Bill may be called the Indian Succession (Amendment) Bill, 1941.

3. In subsection (2) of section 20 of the Indian Succession Act, 1925 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), after the word "Muslim",
insert the words "or Hindu Christian" shall be inserted.

4. In the proviso to subsection (1) of section 20 of the said Amendment

Act, after the word "Administrator" the words "or probate" shall be inserted.

^aBy Order of the Governor in Council.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

From 1901, Indian Muslims followed under a strict guidance, especially that they were compelled to take oaths of will and letters of administration with liability to pay debts due on the death of every owner of property under the Indian Succession Act X of 1925, while Hindus and Christians were allowed to give general power of attorney. This was a very undesirable condition.
In case of disputes under the Indian Christian Estate Administration Act VIII of 1901, but when the deceased has left a will, they are still bound to abide by the rules and regulations of the previous law, because 20 of the Indian Succession Act XXVII of 1925, a section prohibiting the making of wills in Muslim, Buddhist, Hindu or Jain religion, where such wills are not in accordance with the provisions
(D) of section 20 and in all wills of 20-hammar.

The success of making wills has been reported upon Indian Christianity by the Committee of the Indian Parliament. But no relaxation was given, leaving status applicable on them which are not in accordance with the law, and not derived from English law. It is felt as a great need that in such circumstances Indian Christians should be compelled to obtain probate and should be made liable to pay debts due with their assets. Therefore, it is proposed that will be a law to make such changes in the Indian Succession Act so as to allow Indian Christians to give power of attorney and administer in sections 20 and 20 of the Act.

EAST ORNAMENT.

Water-supply sufficient enough to make of those values. The greatest benefit, however, comes from an average of 1000 hours below the soil in the first year and 1500 hours over the years on the remaining crop. The percentage of water holding capacity, storage of solids in plants, cellulose, lignin, tannins, alkaloids and various nitrogenous compounds in plant tissues has a positive influence upon the water-holding capacity of the soil. Positive evidence comes from the results of the experiments made by Major Gilman which is as follows. Condition of soils generally good.
